

Individual itineraries and the circulation of scientific and technical knowledge in East Asia (16th–20th centuries)

ICCM ANR-09-SSOC-004

Final Conference

University Paris Diderot, Bat. Condorcet
Amphithéâtre Pierre-Gilles de Gennes
4 rue Alice Domont et Léonie Duquet, 75013 Paris*

PROGRAMME

MONDAY 26 NOVEMBER

9:00 Opening

9 :30 – 12 :30

Chair: Françoise Sabban (EHESS, Paris)

Caroline Bodolec (CNRS, UMR8173, Paris)

Miaofeng 妙逢, a monk-architect: geographical and social itinerary

Catherine Jami (CNRS, UMR7219, Paris)

Imperial mobility and information networks: the Kangxi emperor's Collection of investigation of things in leisure time

Zhao Bing (CNRS, UMR 8155)

Tang Ying 唐英 (1682-1756) between the Palace and Jiangnan: the exceptional itinerary of an imperial bondservant

Discussant: Dagmar Schäfer (University of Manchester)

14 :30 – 17 :30

Chair: Christian Jacob (EHESS, Paris)

Mau Chuan-hui (National Tsing-Hua University, Hsinchu)

Qing local officials and the circulation of wild silkworms breeding

Delphine Spicq (Collège de France, Paris)

From fieldwork to handbook production: Linqing's experience in water conservancy

Frédéric Obringer (CNRS, UMR8173, Paris)

Views of the human body: geographical and intellectual mobility of a physician and a literatus

Discussant: Pierre-Etienne Will (Collège de France, Paris)

* Access: Metro : Line 14, RER C, stop : Bibliothèque François Mitterrand, Bus : 62, 89, 325, 64, stop : Avenue de France

Individual itineraries and the circulation of scientific and technical knowledge in East Asia (16th–20th centuries)

ICCM ANR-09-SSOC-004

Final Conference

University Paris Diderot, Bat. Condorcet
Amphithéâtre Pierre-Gilles de Gennes
4 rue Alice Domont et Léonie Duquet, 75013 Paris*

TUESDAY 27 NOVEMBER

9 :30 – 12 :30

Chair: Marie-Noëlle Bourguet (University Paris Diderot)

Antonella Romano (European University Institute, Florence)

In the wake of a revolution: Martino Martini between the Chinese and the Manchu

Beatriz Puente Ballesteros (Catholic University Leuven)

Bernard Rhodes (1646-1715), imperial physician

Wu Huiyi (ICT, University Paris Diderot)

The 'provincialism' of F.-X. Dentrecolles' (1664-1741) translations: locality and configurations of knowledge

Discussant: Nicolas Standaert (Catholic University Leuven)

14 :30 – 17 :30

Chair: Rafael Mandressi (CNRS, CAK, Paris)

Florence Bretelle-Establet (CNRS, UMR7219, Paris)

Human mobility and the book trade: the circulation of medical knowledge in the Far South

Emmanuel Poisson (University Paris Diderot, UMR7219)

Circulation and production of knowledge in 18th century Viêt Nam: Lê Quy Dôn's itineraries

Lim Jong-tae (Seoul National University)

Astronomers in tributary missions: institutionalized travels of Korean court astronomers to Beijing in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries

Discussant: Kim Daeyeol (INALCO, Paris)

17 :30 – 18 :30

Presentation of database and GIS

* Access: Métro : Line 14, RER C, stop : Bibliothèque François Mitterrand, Bus : 62, 89, 325, 64, stop : Avenue de France

Individual itineraries and the circulation of scientific and technical knowledge in East Asia (16th–20th centuries)

ICCM ANR-09-SSOC-004

Final Conference

University Paris Diderot, Bat. Condorcet
Amphithéâtre Pierre-Gilles de Gennes
4 rue Alice Domont et Léonie Duquet, 75013 Paris*

WEDNESDAY 28 NOVEMBER

9 :30 – 12 :30

Chair: Marwa Elshakry (Columbia University)

Aurélien Laroulandie (EHESS, UMR8173, Paris)

Circulation of knowledge in its institutional context: officials and experts networks in 17th century Korea

Andrea Bréard (University of Lille 1)

Meng Sen and Shen Linyi, two careers in modern statistics in the late Qing

Aleksandra Majstorac-Kobiljski (CNRS, UMR8173, Paris & Needham Research Institute, Cambridge)

Japanese engineers and coking technologies in early twentieth century Manchuria

Discussant: Annick Horiuchi (University Paris Diderot)

14 :30 – 17 :30

Chair: Isabelle Landry-Deron (EHESS, Paris)

[To be confirmed] Joachim Kurtz (University of Heidelberg)

Missionary itineraries and the circulation of knowledge in 19th century China : Young J. Allen, Li Di, and their networks

Christian Lamouroux (EHESS, UMR8173, Paris)

Between archives and fieldwork: Mr. Liu Guoliang's business in Beijing

Lucia Candelise (UMR 7219, University Paris Diderot)

Diplomacy, empire and medicine: the construction of French traditionalist acupuncture

Discussant: Rui Magone (Berlin)

17 :30 – 18 :00

Conclusion

* Access: Métro : Line 14, RER C, stop : Bibliothèque François Mitterrand, Bus : 62, 89, 325, 64, stop : Avenue de France